Mrs. Buffinton, Sued for Divorce, Calls HUSBAND'S CHARGES LIES

"I have no recollection of having written a letter like that."—Mrs. Buffinton, in reply to question as to the authorship of "Guanerius" letter to Le Blanc, who has been named in divorce suit.

Sketches in Court by Boston American via Artiste.
MRS. LUCY E. BUFFINTON ON WITNESS STAND IN DIVORCE TRIAL

Fair Defendant Wearily Says She Loved Her Art, Not Le Blanc.

In a low and musical voice that betokened weariness rather than indignation, Mrs. Lucy E. Buffinton of Roxbury resumed her testimony in the Suffolk County divorce court today and gave a sweeping denial to her husband's detailed charges of infidelity.

The statures "collet," whose tangled matrimonial affairs Judge White has been asked to straighten out, double even the appearance of wrongdoing. Her many meetings with Jerome Le Blanc, the busy, hated little violin player, she calmly declared to have been in the interests of "her art." Under Mr. Le Blanc's "bohemian" influence, she explained, she had become a great musician herself and so was able to earn much more as well as money.

On being shown the "Hotel Guardian" letter which Mrs. Le Blanc found in her husband's coat pocket and which Mr. Buffinton testified had been written by his wife, she replied: "That is not my handwriting. My style is fine and flowing. That writing is small and cramped. Every Daggett, representing Mr. Buffinton, read aloud this paragraph from the letter: 'I dread to return home today.'"

NEW HOPE AS GRAPPLERS FIND LOST SUBMARINE

Special Cable to Boston American.
PARIS, Oct. 18.—Salvage steamer that at first found the Lutin, the French submarine lost Tuesday off Brittany, found Grappling Irons have caught the hull at a depth of 125 feet, the boat lying flat on the bottom.

With the more powerful wrecking vessels at their command, furnished by various nations, the Ministry of Marine now believes that there is still hope of reclaiming the vessel and perhaps bringing the men down from alive. Hope of saving the men, however, is small, as the Lutin has been turned on her side, thus indicating that she has died.

The optimistic view of the disaster is based upon the report that has just been received from Admiral Bellen, who is in

HAVANA CABLE BROKEN BY STORM

ALONE HELPS CUBA

Florida Coast Hit by Hurricane After Communication With Island Was Cut Off—Rumors of Serious Damage in Cuban Capital and Throughout the Island.

MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 18.—Cuba has been swept by a terrific hurricane, which is headed north, and it is feared that great damage will be done along the Atlantic coast as far as South Carolina.

It is believed that widespread devastation, and possibly the loss of many lives, have been the result of the storm in Cuba.

Ruin has been caused in Camp Columbia, where the American troops in Havana are quartered.

Weather bureau bulletins have been issued from Washington, giving notice of the storm and warning vessels that navigation will be dangerous for forty-eight hours.

FEAR MANY LIVES LOST.

Details of the devastation wrought in Cuba are lacking, as cable communication with the island has been lost. Just before the cable went out last night a message from the operator stated that a hurricane was raging there and that many lives would undoubtedly be lost. Great damage was reported from there. Since then not a message has come through.

Press dispatches stated that a severe windstorm, accompanied by heavy rains, was in progress. Later accounts all speak of the increasing violence of the storm as the first land waves came that a terrible hurricane had struck the island.

The United States authorities at Camp Columbia, however, were forced to assume their positions.

Before the cable was lost the Havana operator announced that land wires to the interior were down in all directions. It was said that the storm was of a terrific force and had done much damage to the ports from the provinces of Cuba told of heavy damage caused.

Moving Up the Coast.

Warning of the storm moving up the Atlantic coast was given today from the weather bureau. The first bulletin issued at 10 o'clock stated that a tropical disturbance of small dimensions, but great intensity, was moving up the southeast coast of Florida. The probable course was given as a north westerly. Warning was given that ships would be expected to encounter considerable damage off the coast.

Florida in Storm Zone.

The Florida position has been added to the storm zone and apparently will suffer greatly. Communication with Key West was lost by the telephone companies shortly after 10 o'clock. A gale had been blowing for some time during the night and the wind at times attained a velocity of forty-eight miles an hour.

Damage in New York.

Damage is now the most fearful feature of the storm. It is feared that the damage in Florida is as serious as the damage in Cuba. It is feared that the damage in Florida is as serious as the damage in Cuba. It is feared that the damage in Florida is as serious as the damage in Cuba.

FIND FUGITIVE BOY IN ENGLAND

Cable dispatches to the BOSTON AMERICAN today from London tell of the surrender there of Henry Stannard, who escaped from the reformatory at Concord in September.

The fact that he had an intention to raise in England a revolution, and he will be returned on the next ship.

Stannard is about twenty years old. He was committed for breaking and entering some time ago, and as soon as it was learned that he had escaped, he was successful in eluding the police.

WHOLE WORLD OF DEALERS CENTRATED

BY J. C. KERRISON.

The majority of the American racing machines constructed for the Vanderbilt are to be found in and placed in condition for the events at Grand next February. This means that American manufacturers will take a more prominent part in the Winter tournament than heretofore; that they will be represented by racing machines for the first time in the history of the Grand touring. Heretofore the domestic makes have, with one or two exceptions, been perfectly willing to place their faith in stock cars, preferring to let the big events go abroad without making any special endeavor to defend the home turf from across the water. This season, however, something has happened to the old policy for the Vanderbilt at an average cost of $20,000. The Vanderbilt is not only a reasonable to believe that the makers will bring their cars to the meet and force that they have such things as speed, but they have already expressed a desire to sell them to play their part in the character of foreign cars with which they have been so long familiar.

This naturally means much to the success of the domestic industry. It proves positively that the makers have sufficient confidence in their own product to send them against the best in the world against the standard of the Vanderbilt. If used in the winter, the Vanderbilt is not only a reasonable to believe that the makers will bring their cars to the meet and force that they have such things as speed, but they have already expressed a desire to sell them to play their part in the character of foreign cars with which they have been so long familiar.

MONOPOLY LODGE CAMPAIGN AUTO

Will Gov. Guild Answer These Questions?

GOVERNOR GUILD has begun his campaign for re-election. His opening speech consists entirely of an attack upon this newspaper and its editor.

Mr. Guild denies certain statements which appeared in an article in this newspaper regarding the regilding of the State House dome, but he ignores the main charge made against him in that article.

Mr. Guild did not deny, and he cannot deny, that the State House dome is being regilded by a contractor who employs non-union labor.

Mr. Guild denies that he appointed President Dana of the Senate to the Superior Court bench because of Dana's action in killing the Overtime Bill.

Mr. Guild did not deny, and he cannot deny, that Mr. Dana cast the deciding vote which killed the Overtime Bill.

He did not deny, and he cannot deny, that Mr. Dana, as president of the Senate, invariably took the side of the corporations, and in every action in which the rights of labor were involved he opposed labor.

Mr. Guild did not deny, and he cannot deny, that at the close of the legislative session, AS SOON AS MR. DANA'S SERVICES TO THE CORPORATIONS WERE ENDED, he appointed Mr. Dana to the Superior Court bench.

Governor Guild, you cannot obscure the real issues by attacking this newspaper and its editor.

You have not yet answered these questions:

1. Why do you permit the State House dome to be gilded by non-union labor?
2. WHY DID YOU APPOINT TO THE SUPERIOR COURT BENCH THE MAN WHOSE DECIDING VOTE KILLED THE OVERTIME BILL?

Yes, They Want Mr. Guild

And Don't Forget WHY They Want Him

A reader writes that he thinks it strange so many very big men "should want Mr. Guild for Governor." It really is not strange, and we think we can prove that.

Mr. Rogers, of the Standard Oil, wants Mr. Guild for Governor. Before you allow yourself to be influenced by his opinion, just remember this:

THE TRUSTS THAT WORK TO KEEP YOU POOR WORK TO KEEP MR. ROGERS RICH.

Mr. Gaston, of the Street Railway Trust and the Gas Trust, wants to see Mr. Guild Governor. You want gas at seventy-five cents. GASTON AND OTHER BIG MEN WANT TO SELL IT TO YOU AT NINETEEN CENTS. The fifteen cents difference goes into the Trust's pocket.

You want a seat in the street car, but Mr. Gaston and his friends GET THE FIVE CENTS THAT YOU PAY FOR HANGING TO A STRAP. Kidder, Peabody & Co. are very anxious to see Mr. Guild elected Governor. It doesn't matter very much to Kidder, Peabody & Co. what party a man belongs to, BUT IT DOES MATTER VERY MUCH TO THEM WHETHER OR NOT A MAN BELONGS TO THE TRUSTS IN WHICH THE STANDARD OIL COMPANY IS INTERESTED.

The system which is painful to you IS PLEASANT FOR MR. GASTON AND KIDDER, PEABODY & CO. So you will find it all the way through. You are against the Trusts BECAUSE THE TRUSTS TAKE YOUR MONEY. Other men are favorable to the Trusts and favorable to Mr. Guild, FOR THE TRUSTS PUT MONEY IN THEIR POCKETS.

You who don't think the Trusts help you, don't feel especially anxious to give the Gas Trust that extra fifteen cents for gas, have got to vote against the Trusts, and to do that you must vote against Mr. Guild, for the Trust people want him FOR REASONS BEST KNOWN TO THEM.

MISS GIRAFFE—Oh, Doctor Monk, have you anything that will remove freckles?

Two Short Sermons, and a Shorter One

Can You Write One Still Shorter?

In connection with this sermon there is published a still shorter one by an English preacher, who in his pulpit for a Sunday sermon said just seven words—no more. These are the seven words:

"Little children, love one another. Consider this." To put much in little space is for some mysterious reason an occupation fascinating to the human mind. One man spent much time with a microscope engraving the Lord's Prayer on the head of a pin—and he irritated a lot of others who had already engraved that prayer on the backs of ten-cent pieces and gold dollars.

If this newspaper were asked to print a short sermon in these days of many words and little action, it would submit as a complete sermon, important and sufficiently comprehensive, these three words:

"THINK FOR YOURSELF"

It would be difficult to exaggerate the beneficial effect that such a sermon might have upon the people, AND ESPECIALLY UPON THOSE ENGAGED IN FOOLING THE PEOPLE, if the sermon were generally lived up to. Perhaps some of our readers can give us samples of sermons in few words, shorter or better than those above. We shall be glad to consider a few.

Meanwhile we recommend our own discourse in three words: "Think for yourself." The man who does that is on the road to better things for himself, AND HE IS PREPARING TROUBLE FOR THE CUNNING INDIVIDUALS THAT NOW PREY UPON PUBLIC THOUGHTLESSNESS.

The Rev. Dr. FARRAR, of Brooklyn, preached recently what is said to be the shortest American sermon. Here it is in full:

"I do not know very much about creation. All that any one knows about it is contained in the Bible and what scientists have been telling us. I am satisfied that there was a creation, and that it has been satisfactory."
